

MEDIA TIP SHEET

EUROPACE

21-24 June 2009

SESSIONS IN CHRONOLOGICAL ORDER

Date	Time	Session title	Room / Zone
21 June 2009	14:15-15:45	Remote Monitoring: current status and perspectives	Room 1
21 June 2009	14:15-15:45	Who is at risk: abnormal electrocardiogram in athletes	Room 4
21 June 2009	16:00-17:00	Does ECG screening in athletes make medical and economical sense?	Room 1
22 June 2009	11:00-12:30	How to treat arrhythmias in the very young	Room 1
22 June 2009	11:00-12:30	Sudden cardiac death: gender differences	Room 2
22 June 2009	11:00-12:30	When and how to treat patients with inherited arrhythmias	Room 6
22 June 2009	11:00-12:30	Deactivating the ICD: ethical aspects of CARDIOSTIM SESSION	Room 7
22 June 2009	11:00-12:30	Atrial fibrillation in heart failure patients	Room 9
23 June 2009	08:30-10:00	Genetics in arrhythmias	Room 10
23 June 2009	11:45-12:07	All patients should be on a tele-monitoring system	Room 1
23 June 2009	11:00-12:30	How to treat atrial fibrillation in athletes.	Room 2
23 June 2009	11:00-12:30	ICD registry: progress and promise for the future – reimbursements policies in Europe	Room 3
23 June 2009	11:00-12:30	Primary electrical disease and sudden cardiac death	Room 6
23 June 2009	14:00-15:30	ARVC/ARVD: from gene to ablation	Room 1
23 June 2009	16:30-18:00	Drug treatment of atrial fibrillation: new insights	Room 2
24 June 2009	08:30-10:00	Cost effectiveness in electrophysiology	Room 1
24 June 2009	08:30-10:00	Remote monitoring should be used in every ICD and CRT patient	Room 4
24 June 2009	10:30-12:00	Heart failure monitoring: role of devices	Room 4
24 June 2009	10:30-12:00	Genetic screening: routine already?	Room 7

Ensure you look up these sessions either in your copy of the Final Programme to double check Final Programme numbers, date, time, room and zone information as these are subject to change up until the last minute. Alternatively you may prefer to use the Scientific Programme Online on your laptop or on one of the internet work stations available from the congress centre. In doubt, ask any of us at the ESC Press Office, we will be happy to help!