

ESC Press Office

Embargo Policy for the ESC Congress and other meetings organised by the European Society of Cardiology

Results and information related to a session at the ESC Congress, or other meetings organised by the ESC, cannot be presented or announced in any forum prior to presentation in the session or press conference, whichever comes first. The embargo is lifted at the beginning of the press briefing or scientific presentation.

Embargo on poster sessions applies until the presentation opens to the public. The embargo policy also applies to pre-published online content in advance of print publication.

Any press and media representatives intending to attend an ESC Congress must accept this embargo policy or will not be provided with a press badge. This agreement needs to be received prior to the event.

Breaking of the embargo policy by a reporter leads to:

- Immediate suspension of the reporter's media credentials
- Immediate barring of the reporter from the meeting premises
- Removal of the reporter's name from the ESC Press distribution list for 1 year
- No access as a media representative to the following year's ESC Congress
- No access as a media representative to any other congresses organized by the ESC for 1 year
- Media outlets that employ the reporter or who hired the freelancer to write for them will be barred from accessing next year's ESC Congress and from sending reporters to any other ESC organised congress for 1 year.

Breaking of an embargo by another (non-media) party will equally be pursued in the most appropriate manner.
