Iroko Pharmaceuticals is an innovative, global company founded to acquire, develop and maximize the potential of currently marketed pharmaceutical products. In early 2008, we acquired all non-US commercial rights to Aggrastat® (tirofiban HCl) from Merck & Co., Inc. Outside of the US market, Aggrastat® in combination with heparin is indicated for patients with unstable angina or non-Q wave myocardial infarction to prevent cardiac ischemic events, and is also indicated for patients with coronary ischemic syndromes undergoing coronary angioplasty or atherectomy to prevent cardiac ischemic complications related to abrupt closure of the treated coronary artery. Aggrastat® is indicated for the treatment of acute coronary syndrome, including patients who are to be managed medically and those undergoing percutaneous transluminal coronary angioplasty (PTCA). We also market Indocin® (indomethacin) and Aldomet® (methyldopa) globally as well as, in Canada only, the oral product line of the antibiotic Vancocin® (vancomycin hydrochloride).

Multiplate® assesses directly in whole blood within 10 min the effects of the anti-platelet drugs aspirin, thienopyridines (clopidogrel, prasugrel) or fibrinogen receptor antagonists (ReoPro®, Aggrastat®, Integrilin®). Studies highlight the clinical predictivity of Multiplate regarding an increased risk of thromboembolism. Easy handling, reduced pre-analytical efforts, standardised procedures and attractive pricing enable a routine monitoring of anti-platelet drugs using Multiplate.

The Multiplate detection technique is based on the established method of (impedance) whole blood aggregometry. Unlike the previously applied methods, Multiplate uses a single use test cell with a twin impedance sensor, integrated computer analysis and electronic pipetting. These technological advancements ensure a sensitive and reliable detection of platelet function.

Multiplate was introduced in 2005, and is already the market leading aggregometer in central Europe being widely used by reference centers and pharmaceutical companies. Multiplate Services is an innovative company, situated in central Munich with close cooperations with both Munich university clinics.
