

Ms. Emily EATON TURNER, NICE

Emily Eaton Turner is an Associate Director in the HealthTech Programme at the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE), England, UK.

She has a background in biomedical science and holds a master's in health economics from the University of York, UK. She has 10 years of experience in health technology evaluation and has worked at NICE for 7 years across a number of programmes including medicines evaluation, commercial and managed access and the HealthTech evaluation.

Emily's interests include health technology assessment for medical devices, diagnostics, digital technologies (including artificial intelligence), interventional procedures and medicines. As well as working collaboratively with stakeholders to explore appropriate mechanisms to get patient access to innovative and promising treatments and technologies using supportive commercial or managed access approaches.