General guidelines for abstracts submission

Abstracts must be submitted using exclusively the on-line abstract submission form you will find in this website. Abstracts submitted by email or fax will not be accepted. Abstracts received after the deadline will not be considered. Submission of an abstract acknowledges your acceptance for its publication in the official programme and abstract booklet.

The Presenting author must be the Contact author in the submission form and he/she must be listed the first in the list of authors. Each Presenting author can submit a maximum of three (3) abstracts. The Presenting author must register for the Cardiovascular Development Meeting before 1 September 2020 to ensure the abstract is included in the programme and scheduled for presentation.

Authors will be required to indicate whether oral or poster presentation is preferred and to select a topic. The final type of presentation and session will be determined by the conference scientific committee after the reviewing process.

Title, type of presentation and topic

Special characters and symbols are accepted following the next rule: type them in Word processing programme in Arial font, and copy-paste them in to the title field. Super- and sub-script characters are not compatible. Please type 10[sup]2[/sup] for 10 2 and 10[sub]2[/sub] for 102. Bold, italic and underlined texts are not accepted.

Text of the abstract

Abstracts must not exceed 250 words and must be submitted in English using the following structure.: Background Material and methods Results Conclusions Funding sources, if any

Please do not leave blank lines to separate paragraphs. It is recommended to type the text of the abstract in a Word processing programme in Arial font, and copy-paste it into the corresponding field. Greek and mathematical symbols are accepted if they are created in Arial font. Please use the [Special Character Keyboard] you will find in the on-line form for super and sub-script formatting. Bold, italic and underlined texts are not accepted.

The presenting author is required to ensure that all co-authors are aware of the content of the abstract before submission. Abstracts must be original and must not have been published or presented in the same form at any other meeting. Abstracts stating "data will be discussed in the presentation" or similar will not be accepted. The abstract body must not include any indication of the personal details of authors.

How to use the online abstract submission form

First of all, you will be required to Create a "New Account" to sign-in to your personal portal. Your personal portal will allow you to submit abstracts and register to the Conference after the review process. For any further information related to abstract submission please contact the Technical Secretariat by e-mail: dap2020@bcocongresos.com

Evaluation and acceptance

The Cardiovascular Development Meeting scientific committee reserves the right to reallocate abstracts in a different topic and to decide the final type of presentation. Authors will be notified by email whether their abstract has been accepted or rejected. The final reference number and session assigned to each oral/poster will be notified by e-mail before September 2020.
