Preface

The EuroThrombosis Summit 2012 meeting is the biannual scientific meeting of the Working Group on Thrombosis of the European Society of Cardiology (ESC). The EuroThrombosis Summit meeting has a strong interest in clinical research, which takes about 80% of its contents, but there is always a small basic research part present. The meeting has been held for the last time in Oporto 2011. Based on the recent developments and upgrades of international guidelines with respect to antithrombotic therapy in cardiovascular diseases, it has been decided to organize the EuroThrombosis Summit again in 2012 in Vienna, Austria, which will then be followed in 2013 by the alternative, mostly basic research related EuroThrombosis Science meeting (in Lund, Sweden).

As organizers we were extremely interested to include the newest guidelines and clinical developments into this meeting. But we also want to inform a highly motivated and interested audience about new developments in basic research with potential implication for the future. We were successful in the invitation of outspoken international experts in the field who will make the event an unforgettable experience. As a new strategy in planning in the meeting organization and to give young scientists an audience they deserve but rarely have seen in the past, we plan to merge clinical symposia with clinical and basic research (translational medicine) by inviting one or two best rated abstracts into most of the pre-defined symposia. In opposite to the meetings of the past parallel sessions have been kept to a minimum.

We are grateful to the industry for sponsoring the EuroThrombosis Summit 2012 again by organizing and financing satellite/special symposia and taking part in the medical exhibition.

We are convinced that the EuroThrombosis Summit 2012 will become a milestone of antithrombotic treatment in cardiovascular diseases and of clinical and basic (translational) thrombosis research.
